

Colorado (5 colours)

Colorado is a natural grain, lightly oiled and waxed, pull up hide with aniline finishing. Natural markings and grain variation will be in evidence. The pull up effect however is smaller, limited by the slightly thicker substance of the hides (1.1 - 1.2mm) and their particular semi aniline tanning process. They have a pleasing and generous handle and a traditional two tone finish, achieved using a two stage colour process. Some stretching can be achieved but the finish is more resistant and robust than other pull up leathers. A very natural and pleasing aroma is in evidence with this type of leather. Colorado is ideal for furniture applications where a pull up look is desired but a more robust finish is needed.
